4.1. Description of the President's duties

The Board of Directors elects the President and decides on the terms of the Presidents employment. The terms are specified in a written contract which is approved by the Board of Directors. The President is responsible for the day-to-day management and development of the Group in accordance with the instructions and orders of the Board of Directors. The President is also responsible for keeping the Board up to date with regards to development of the company's business and financial situation.

Mika Ihamuotila, who acted as President and CEO until 9 April 2015, has a full-time executive service agreement as CEO. His duties include, e.g., responsibility for the development of Marimekko's strategy and its implementation together with the President and the Management Group, as well as an active senior role in managing the company's financial affairs and stakeholder relations. Ihamuotila's executive agreement or his duties thereunder are not dependent on his position as a member or Chairman of Marimekko's Board of Directors. The terms of the executive service agreement are specified in a written contract and are evaluated by the board's Audit and Remuneration Committee.

5. Internal control and risk management in Marimekko Corporation

5.1. Internal control

Marimekko Corporation applies internal control principles and an operating plan to support the execution and monitoring of internal control. In the Marimekko Group, internal control is a process, for which the Board of Directors and the President are responsible. The objective of internal control is to provide reasonable assurance that:

- the operations are effective and aligned with strategy
- financial reporting and management information is reliable
- the company is in compliance with applicable laws and regulations, and
- Code of Conduct and ethical values are established

Marimekko's Board of Directors focuses on increasing shareholder value and, in accordance with good governance, ensures that principles on internal control exist within the company. The Audit and Remuneration Committee is responsible for monitoring the efficiency of internal controls and risk management.

The system of internal control of Marimekko Corporation is based on the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations (COSO) framework, which consists of five key components: the control environment, risk assessment, control activities, information and communication and monitoring. The components and their relation to control over financial reporting are presented in more detail in chapter 7.

6. Responsibilities

The Board of Directors is ultimately responsible for administration of the company and the appropriate organization of its operations. The Board of Directors approves the internal control, risk management and corporate governance policies. The Audit and Remuneration Committee is responsible for the appropriate arrangement of the control of the company accounts and finances and monitors the efficiency of internal control and risk management systems.

The President sets the ground for internal control environment by instructing the management and by reviewing the manner how they control the business operations. President is responsible for the day-to-day management of the Group in accordance with the instructions and orders given by the Board of Directors. The President shall see to it that the accounts of the company are in compliance with the law and that its financial affairs have been arranged in a reliable manner.

The duties of the Management Group members are to define internal control instructions and operating principles related to their area of responsibility and to communicate them to the personnel.

Financial and business control function supports the development of operational controls and monitors the adequacy and efficiency of the controls. Furthermore, it is responsible for the accuracy, timeliness and compliance with applicable laws and regulations of the external reporting.

6.1. Internal audit

Considering the nature and extent of the company's business, Marimekko Corporation has not found it necessary to establish a separate internal audit function. The Board of Directors reviews the level of the company's internal control activities at least once a year. Where necessary, the Board may purchase internal audit services from an external service provider.

6.2. Risk Management

Marimekko Corporation's risk management is guided by the risk management policy approved by the Board of Directors, which defines Marimekko Corporation's risk management principles, objectives and responsibilities as well as the organization and monitoring of risk management process.

Marimekko Corporation's risk management aims to safeguard the smooth continuity of business operations and ensure stable profit development for the company. Comprehensive risk management is an ongoing, systematic process which involves identifying and evaluating risks associated with the company's operations and operating environment. The company's key risks comprise risks which could prevent company from exploiting business opportunities or jeopardize or prevent the achievement of the strategic objectives of the Group or a Group company, or the continuity of operations or would otherwise have significant consequences for the company, its personnel or stakeholders. Risk management is an integral element of the company's management and decision-making process, covering all of the Group's functions.

Risk reporting is an integral element of Marimekko's annual business planning and strategy process. Internal risk reporting is part of regular, continuous business reporting, short-term business planning and the decision-making process. The company reports its key risks and risk management measures in the Report of the Board of Directors and quarterly Interim Reports, and in compliance with Corporate Governance principles, laws and regulations. Individual reports may also be published whenever necessary.

7. Internal control and risk management pertaining to the financial reporting process

Internal control in relation to the financial reporting process is part of the Marimekko Corporation's overall internal control and risk management framework. The objective of internal control and risk management related to the financial reporting process is to:

- ensure reliable, complete and timely financial reporting and management information to support the needs of external stakeholders as well as internal decision-making, and
- ensure compliance with laws, regulation, and Marimekko Corporation's internal policies

The consolidated financial statements of Marimekko Corporation are prepared in compliance with IFRS (International Financial Reporting Standards). Furthermore, the notes to the consolidated financial statements are in compliance with the Finnish Accounting Act and Companies Act.

Development of the business and achievement of financial targets of Marimekko Corporation are monitored through a companywide financial reporting process. Sales reports are prepared, where applicable, daily, weekly and monthly.

Financial statements are prepared monthly. The President reports monthly, quarterly and annual financial statements as well as other items according to Board's rules of procedure to The Board of Directors. Group's financial and business development is disclosed in quarterly and annual financial statements.

7.1. The components of internal control over financial reporting

7.1.1. Control environment

Internal control environment is the foundation of Marimekko Corporation's internal control. It promotes the control consciousness of the organisation and forms the basis for other internal control components. Control environment encompasses the ethical values, competence and development of the organisation's employees, the management's philosophy and the way management assigns authority and responsibility, as well as the guidelines set by the Board of Directors.

Marimekko Corporation's internal control environment related to financial reporting process encompasses various instructions that the company has defined in order to harmonise processes and procedures. To ensure consistent accounting practices of subsidiaries, a common chart of accounts is in use in the Group. Moreover, the company wide accounting principles are applied in financial statements and the Board of Directors approves the applied accounting principles.

7.1.2. Risk assessment

Risks are identified as part of the annual strategy and operational planning. Risk management actions and responsibilities as well as risk management activities are defined for the identified risks. Risk identification is updated quarterly together with interim reports.

Marimekko Corporation's strategic and operational objectives form the basis for risk identification. The purpose is to identify risks threatening the achievement of the company's objectives. Risk analyses and assessments are conducted as self-assessments.

Control objectives and common control points are defined for the identified key risks of the company's financial reporting process. Examples of controls are internal policies and authorisation practices, reconciliations, verifications and segregation of duties.

7.1.3. Control activities

Control activities are the policies and procedures that help Marimekko Corporation's management to ensure the effectiveness, efficiency and reliability of the company's operations. Moreover, controls also help to ensure that the risks that may hinder the achievement of Marimekko Corporation's objectives are managed adequately.

Control points which were defined in the financial reporting process risk assessment are in place at all levels of the organisation to ensure that applicable laws, internal procedures and ethical values are adhered to. Function directors are responsible for following up developments in legislation and regulation in their respective areas and communicating them to the organisation. Function directors are also responsible for setting up adequate compliance controls and compliance related training in their units. Moreover, process controls have been defined for the most significant business and reporting processes.

Marimekko Corporation's consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the parent company, Marimekko Corporation and its subsidiaries. Marimekko Corporation's subsidiaries report to the parent company on a monthly and quarterly basis and during the preparation of consolidated Financial Statements. The Financial Statements of the subsidiaries are prepared in accordance with the local accounting standard applicable in those countries; the subsidiaries do not prepare their financial statements in accordance with the IFRS. The IFRS adjustments required are prepared at the group level.

The parent company financial function is responsible for preparing the consolidated Financial Statements of Marimekko Corporation based on the Financial Statements of the subsidiaries. The CFO reviews the figures of the subsidiaries and analyses the reasons for possible deviations in order to assure the reliability of financial reporting. In addition, the parent company finance function reviews the income statement and balance sheet before handing them over to the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors approves the interim reports and financial statements release as well as financial statements.

7.1.4. Information and communication

The communication of controls and control procedures is an essential part of the internal control pertaining to the financial reporting process in Marimekko Corporation. The people responsible for financial reporting in subsidiaries and in the parent company have been involved in the assessment of financial reporting process risks and controls. Common controls encompassing all group companies have been communicated to all people involved in the reporting process. The parent company finance function supports the implementation of the controls in the subsidiaries with regular guidance and monitoring.

The company has instructions for financial reporting and the instructions are updated regularly. Accounting principles and reporting instructions are communicated to all people involved.

7.1.5. Monitoring

Monitoring of controls is a way to assess the efficiency and effectiveness of control activities on an ongoing basis. Monitoring can be done through ongoing activities as part of normal day-to-day tasks or as separate evaluations.

The Board's Audit and Remuneration Committee executes its monitoring duties when monitoring the financial reporting process of interim reports and financial statements and by evaluating the level of internal control and risk management pertaining to the reporting process. The management is responsible for continuously monitoring the internal control system pertaining to the financial reporting process as a part of monitoring the operations. Monitoring can also be conducted by the parent company finance function. Ongoing monitoring includes regular management activities and other tasks done by the personnel while executing their duties.

The scope and frequency of separate evaluations depends primarily on the assessment of risks and the effectiveness of ongoing monitoring procedures. The detected deficiencies in internal control of financial reporting process are reported upstream, with serious matters reported to top management and the Board of Directors.

Other company monitoring activities consist of e.g. administrative and legal instructions, defining the responsibilities and authorities as well as the monitoring and analyzing of the achievement of organization's objectives. Moreover, the operation of the risk management system is controlled as part of company monitoring activities.

Approved by Marimekko Corporation's Board of Directors on 10 February 2016
